Blembeng Lake, South Gombong Karst, Indonesia; photo by Iqbal Kautsar
The potential utilization of non-timber vascular plants in the karst area of Ayah Village, Kebumen District, Central Java, Indonesia

SISCA INDRIYANI 1, DEVI MAYANG AURINA 1, MUHAMMAD FADHIL MADHAN 1, FAYZA RACHMALIA 1, MUTHI’AH DZAKIYYAT UL FAUZIYYAH 1, AQR A DANIAL FATURRAHMAN 1, IRFAN ABU NAZAR 1, ANISA SEPTIASARI 2, DARLINA MD. NAIM 3, AHMAD DWI SETYAWAN 5

Published semiannually

PRINTED IN INDONESIA
Aims and Scope International Journal of Tropical Drylands (formerly Tropical Drylands) encourages submission of manuscripts dealing with physical, biological and cultural aspects of dryland ecology, especially the effects of land use change, diversity and conservation, environmental management, landuse, habitat degradation and rehabilitation, geomorphological and hydrological processes, as well as soil chemistry, biology, physics, and other edaphic aspects. Authors submitting a manuscript seeks for: (i) Research papers, (ii) Reviews, and (iii) Short communications. Original full-length research manuscripts are limited to 8,000 words (including tables and figures) or proportional to articles in the journal beyond that, figures and tables are limited to 8,000 words, while Short communications should be less than 2,500 words, except for pre-study (can be more).

Submission The only journals accept online submissions through the open journal system. Hence it is crucial that you follow the style guide (https://s J) in preparing your manuscript. Authors only the first author is mentioned and his name is in the first mention there. The primary criteria for publication are significance. The occurrence of research and pay attention to the legality of material sources and its analysis.

Copyright If the manuscript is accepted for publication, the author(s) still hold the copyright. Authors must read and approve the final version of the submitted manuscript and its revision; and agree on the submission of manuscripts for this journal. All authors should have made substantial contributions to the research and design of the research, acquisition of the data, and its analysis, drafting the manuscript, and correcting the revision. All authors must be responsible for the work's quality, accuracy, and ethics.

Free of charge This publication is dedicated entirely to the advancement of scientific knowledge. Therefore authors and institutions are exempt from subject to publication fees. Reprint Authors or other parties may freely download and distribute. However, a print request will be charged. It may be purchased when ordering back the uncorrected proofs by email.

Aims and Scope International Journal of Tropical Drylands (formerly Tropical Drylands) encourages submission of manuscripts dealing with physical, biological and cultural aspects of dryland ecology, especially the effects of land use change, diversity and conservation, environmental management, landuse, habitat degradation and rehabilitation, geomorphological and hydrological processes, as well as soil chemistry, biology, physics, and other edaphic aspects. Authors submitting a manuscript seeks for: (i) Research papers, (ii) Reviews, and (iii) Short communications. Original full-length research manuscripts are limited to 8,000 words (including tables and figures) or proportional to articles in the journal beyond that, figures and tables are limited to 8,000 words, while Short communications should be less than 2,500 words, except for pre-study (can be more).

Introduction is about 600 words, covering the aims of the research and provide an adequate background, avoiding a detailed literature survey or a summary of the results. Materials and Methods should emphasize on the experimental procedures used. The manuscript should be complete with necessary references in the text, preferably not more than 20 words. Name of author(s) should be completely written, especially for the first and the last name. Name and institution address should also be completely written with street name and number including postcode (e.g. Jl. A, 30-1-03, 20000, Jakarta, Indonesia). We choose local names in Bahasa Indonesia for universities in Indonesia. The mention of “strata” program, should be avoided. Manuscript written by a group, author for correspondence along with address is required (maximum 3). The manuscript file must contain the full name(s), institution(s), and address(es) of the author(s); the corresponding authors detailed postage and e-mail addresses (P, and O) and fax numbers (if any). Abstract A concise abstract is required (about 200 words). The abstract should be informative and state briefly the aim of the research, the principal results and major conclusions. An abstract is often presented separately from the main text and can be used in databases and abstracting services. A provisional title should be defined at their first mention there. Abstract should be informative, and stated that the manuscript. A provisional title should be defined at their first mention there. Running title is about 20 words.

Introduction is about 600 words, covering the aims of the research and provide an adequate background, avoiding a detailed literature survey or a summary of the results. Materials and Methods should emphasize on the experimental procedures used. The manuscript should be complete with necessary references in the text, preferably not more than 20 words. Name of author(s) should be completely written, especially for the first and the last name. Name and institution address should also be completely written with street name and number including postcode (e.g. Jl. A, 30-1-03, 20000, Jakarta, Indonesia). We choose local names in Bahasa Indonesia for universities in Indonesia. The mention of “strata” program, should be avoided. Manuscript written by a group, author for correspondence along with address is required (maximum 3). The manuscript file must contain the full name(s), institution(s), and address(es) of the author(s); the corresponding authors detailed postage and e-mail addresses (P, and O) and fax numbers (if any). Abstract A concise abstract is required (about 200 words). The abstract should be informative and state briefly the aim of the research, the principal results and major conclusions. An abstract is often presented separately from the main text and can be used in databases and abstracting services. A provisional title should be defined at their first mention there. Abstract should be informative, and stated that the manuscript. A provisional title should be defined at their first mention there. Running title is about 20 words.

Introduction is about 600 words, covering the aims of the research and provide an adequate background, avoiding a detailed literature survey or a summary of the results. Materials and Methods should emphasize on the experimental procedures used. The manuscript should be complete with necessary references in the text, preferably not more than 20 words. Name of author(s) should be completely written, especially for the first and the last name. Name and institution address should also be completely written with street name and number including postcode (e.g. Jl. A, 30-1-03, 20000, Jakarta, Indonesia). We choose local names in Bahasa Indonesia for universities in Indonesia. The mention of “strata” program, should be avoided. Manuscript written by a group, author for correspondence along with address is required (maximum 3). The manuscript file must contain the full name(s), institution(s), and address(es) of the author(s); the corresponding authors detailed postage and e-mail addresses (P, and O) and fax numbers (if any). Abstract A concise abstract is required (about 200 words). The abstract should be informative and state briefly the aim of the research, the principal results and major conclusions. An abstract is often presented separately from the main text and can be used in databases and abstracting services. A provisional title should be defined at their first mention there. Abstract should be informative, and stated that the manuscript. A provisional title should be defined at their first mention there. Running title is about 20 words.

Introduction is about 600 words, covering the aims of the research and provide an adequate background, avoiding a detailed literature survey or a summary of the results. Materials and Methods should emphasize on the experimental procedures used. The manuscript should be complete with necessary references in the text, preferably not more than 20 words. Name of author(s) should be completely written, especially for the first and the last name. Name and institution address should also be completely written with street name and number including postcode (e.g. Jl. A, 30-1-03, 20000, Jakarta, Indonesia). We choose local names in Bahasa Indonesia for universities in Indonesia. The mention of “strata” program, should be avoided. Manuscript written by a group, author for correspondence along with address is required (maximum 3). The manuscript file must contain the full name(s), institution(s), and address(es) of the author(s); the corresponding authors detailed postage and e-mail addresses (P, and O) and fax numbers (if any). Abstract A concise abstract is required (about 200 words). The abstract should be informative and state briefly the aim of the research, the principal results and major conclusions. An abstract is often presented separately from the main text and can be used in databases and abstracting services. A provisional title should be defined at their first mention there. Abstract should be informative, and stated that the manuscript. A provisional title should be defined at their first mention there. Running title is about 20 words.
THIS PAGE INTENTIONALLY LEFT BLANK